Katie Wardrobe

“Make More of Technology”

After overwhelmingly positive feedback from participants in last year’s workshop, we are delighted to again present Katie Wardrobe. This year, Katie will continue to expand upon ways in which we can more efficiently use technology in our music classrooms.

Katie Wardrobe is a Melbourne-based music technology trainer and consultant with a passion for helping music teachers through her business Midnight Music (www.midnightmusic.com.au). She runs hands-on professional development workshops throughout Australia and a popular series of online courses. Her workshops and courses focus on incorporating technology into the music curriculum through a range of creative projects.

Katie is a qualified teacher and has worked in a variety of music and education-related workplaces, including Sibelius Australia and Orchestra Victoria. She has also worked as a freelance copyist, music arranger and transcriber for more than 20 years.

In 2011 she released an ebook for users of open-source software program MuseScore, titled MuseScore: The Essential Beginner's Guide and in 2012 she authored a keyboard and music technology program for middle school students titled Studio Sessions (published by MusicEDU). Katie has had articles published by magazines such as Music In Action and Education Technology Solution.

In 2011, 2013 and 2014 Katie worked as the Project Manager of the Soundhouse Music Alliance's bi-annual Music Technology in Education Conference and she has presented at more than 40 other music and education-related conferences and events. She is also fast becoming known as an expert in the practical integration of iPads in music education and published a digital ebook of iPad Projects for the Music Classroom in 2014.
