

Are you a graduate music teacher or are in the first few years of a teaching career?

*Do you want support from other experienced teachers?
Are you an experienced teacher wanting to connect with emerging music teachers?*

Would you like to share your ideas in a stimulating discussion with like-minded educators and musicians?

You are invited to attend the Term One

Emerging Music Teachers Meeting

with a focus on

Composing in the 21st Century – Structuring Creativity

With Adele Cummings (BGGs)

Date: Tuesday 21st February

Adele graduated from The University of Queensland (2009) and has taught children from early childhood to senior high school. Adele has been involved with the Music Education community and has attended several Summer Schools, presented at Kodály Conferences, studied conducting with Reka Csernyik and continued to sing in community choirs. After arriving back from her recent study break in Sweden, Adele has become more widely involved in the school community by teaching social enterprise, community service and 'Philosophy of Learning'. She is passionate about quality music education and supporting teachers to achieve this.

After Adele's presentation, Emma Ritchie (John Paul College) and Carla Trott (St Aidan's AGS) will lead a round-table discussion. All ideas and questions are welcome.

This event will also be live-streamed. Please register to receive this link.

- Where: Auditorium, St Aidan's Anglican Girls' School
11 Ruthven St, Corinda (next to the train station)
- When: 6pm-7pm, Tuesday 21st February, 2017
- Cost: Free
- RSVP: Carla Trott c.trott@staidans.qld.edu.au

'Like' the KMEIA QLD Facebook page for information on more events in the future.